

WHAT IS JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT (JA)?

JA is a non-profit organization providing a series of business, economics, free-enterprise and life-skills programs to enhance the education of young people.

In the 2010 school year, JA reached approximately 45,000 students. JA Worldwide, through offices around the world, reaches approximately seven million students per year. The emergence of a global economy has resulted in great demand for JA programs in countries around the world that are making the transition from command economies to free market systems.

CORE PURPOSE:

Junior Achievement will inspire and prepare young people to succeed in a global economy.

KEY PROGRAMS:

Programs span grades K-12, with age-appropriate curricula designed to teach elementary students about their roles as individuals, workers, and consumers and to prepare middle grade and high school students for key economic and workforce issues they will face. In addition to bringing the free enterprise system to life in the classroom, Junior Achievement programs teach young people the importance of staying in school.

PROVEN SUCCESS:

JA is one of a few global non-profits to use independent, third-party evaluators to gauge the impact of its programs. Since 1993, independent evaluators have conducted studies on JA's effectiveness. Findings prove that JA has a positive impact in a number of critical areas. These results are available, for free, upon request. Summaries of the findings also are published in the JA Programs section of www.ja.org.

A BRIEF HISTORY:

Junior Achievement was founded in 1919 by Theodore Vail, President of American Telephone & Telegraph; Horace Moses, president of Strathmore Paper Co.; and Senator Murray Crane of Massachusetts. Its first program, The Company Program, was offered to high school students on an after-school basis. Locally, JA was founded in 1959. In 1975, the organization entered the classroom with the introduction of Project Business for the middle grades. Junior Achievement has gradually expanded its activities and broadened its scope to encompass an ever-widening student population.

JA WORLD HUIZENGA CENTER at Broward College

Since inception, JA has been committed to “experiential learning.” Taking it to the next level, JA of South Florida has embarked on an ambitious, heart-stirring project involving two new programs: JA BizTown and JA Finance Park. This dramatic shift forward will significantly transform how every local student is taught to view the world of work, free enterprise, and their possibilities for success in them.

The importance of these new programs is difficult to overstate. Because of their tremendous experiential nature, a building is required to house JA BizTown and JA Finance Park. JA World at the Huizenga Center at Broward College is a center for dynamic education.
